

Cures Talk

Our latest talk on Hood's Sarsaparilla, as far as what it can do. Its great remedial power, consisting largely of grateful men and women, constitutes its most effective advertising. Many of those cured are numerous. They have won the confidence of the people who have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sale in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacturer the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and rheumatism, cure of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove

Hood's Sarsaparilla

In fact, in fact the true blood purifier, cure liver, cure to Hood's Pills take, easy to prepare, etc.

THE HEADLIGHT.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

THE HEADLIGHT PUBLISHING CO.

SUBSCRIPTION:
Year in Advance..... $2.00
If not paid in advance $2.50 will be charged.
Per Month..... 25 Cents
Single Copy..... 10 Cents.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF GRANT COUNTY.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1897

William Jennings Bryan is marching on Mexico.

The aged mother of President McKinley died Sunday morning at her humble home in Canton, surrounded by all her children.

The Chicago sausage factory murder has been reopened and the lawyers in the case are again holding up to public inspection the gruesome testimony.

A careful poll of the United States senate shows 50 senators to be in favor of the annexation of Hawaii and 38 opposed. Annexation will be an accomplished fact within a few months.

The Maine man who has used the gold dug out of his own farm to pay his fare to Honolulu, probably feels that by the change he isn't likely to find a much worse climate for farming and he may move gold.

The news comes from New York that the Santa Fe company have purchased the Silver City & Northern railroad, sometimes called the Whitewater branch. The Santa Fe has been operating this branch for nearly a year.

Grant county is the most prosperous county in New Mexico. The present prosperity of this county is nothing compared to what it would be if silver commanded a fair price. It is but natural that the residents of this county should be for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. —Eagle.

It is the officials who in a certain sense may be called "one idea men" that are making Uncle Sam's navy famous. Secretary Whitney's tendency was toward more civilians; his two successors, Secretaries Tracy and Herbert, ran on more battleships; and now Secretary Long is developing a passion for more docks.

A dispatch to the daily press says that Miss Alice E. Lowry, of Cass County, Michigan, has been called to Missouri to conduct a novel crusade against the use of tobacco. Miss Lowry will make a tour of the state speaking in all the large cities and organizing leagues of young women pledged to saturate no proposals of marriage from young men who are addicted to the habit.

Litigation involving the title to the famous Maxwell land grant in New Mexico has ended by a decision of the supreme court. It drew out of the claim of Alfred Bent and others to a portion of the grant. Pending the progress of the case in the territorial courts Bent died and his interest was conveyed to a land grant company. The decree affirming the sale was afterwards reviewed, upon application of the company, and its title to the grant confirmed. That judgment of the lower court was today affirmed.

Rev. Father Ducey, of St. Leo's church, New York, in a sermon, among other things, said: "As a priest of the Catholic church I say from this pulpit that the present condition of the poor in the United States cannot go on. The Catholic church must lead for the emanicipation of the poor. In the present social economic slavery the church must lead as an emancipator of the working classes and congress must make laws to protect the people's rights. The great mass of the people are in revolt the world over and unless the church of Christ becomes an advocate of the people's cause and forces into public life the trusty men, who cannot be purchased by trusts kings, and kings of monopolies, a revolt of the people, now before the world, will sweep into a most destructive revolution."

Old General Clay of Kentucky has traveled a rocky road so far as his material experience has been concerned. The trouble with the old General is that he is too much given to experimenting. This is all right in matters of science, but he has found, at last, that materialistic experiments are dangerous, and often result disastrously to the happiness of the parties to the experiment. He first tested one of the Nullity. This experiment failed, so he says. He then went to the other extreme, and worried a peasant. This experiment might have proved a success had the peasant been sixty years old, but his lack of experience caused him to marry a fourteen year old peasant. The Octogenarian General was strong enough to keep young company away from his little peasant, and while the novelty lasted she was happy, surrounded with grandsons, waited upon by servants, enjoying her fine dresses, and playing with her dolls. But the old man's slow watch relaxed, and peasant born got a glimpse of young company, and then the General's experiment was at an end.

Dora has left him and will likely never come back. She is following the propensities of her nature, and will be happier in a cabin surrounded by people of her age and class than she could possibly be in General Clay's grand old mansion. The General has probably made his last experiment along this line.

$100 REWARD OFFERED.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assimilative nature in doing its work.

The proprietors have so much faith in their product's power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any person that fails to cure. Send for this or testimonials. F. J. Currier & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A PARIS NOCTURNE.

"The price will do." "Monsieur is most kind." "And—ah—tense, madame. This is the fifth, I believe?"

"No, monsieur," answered the landlady, slightly drooping her eyes.

"But you told me," began the gentleman with the Bohemian air, Greek nose and shaggy blond curly hair, "you told me—"

"Yes, monsieur," Mme. Toudouche said.

"I am sorry it has happened, monsieur. Of course I realized that monsieur has been perfectly right. I have not an idea who he is. Apparently, however, she is very poor. That touched my heart." And Mme. Toudouche made the motion of wiping away a tear.

"She says the gentleman is her brother. She plays very little for the room. The piano is her own. She had it brought up herself. And now, M. Durac, I have come to assure you that you need only command and I will obey."

"Command! Obey, Mme. Toudouche!"

"Yes, monsieur. It is affairs that you should be kept awake like this. I will tell the young girl when she comes tonight that I shall require of her no further pay and that she must at once cease from these disturbing practices."

"What a poor little handful of coins that 'pay' must be!" thought Durac, with irrepressible cynicism.

Somewhat, after the landlady had departed and while flinging himself into the only easy chair that his room contained, a twinge of conscience assailed him. Might he not, after all, be thwarting some purpose of self support on the part of this girl—just referred to as possibly very poor? There might be cogent reasons why she should hold with her brother these weird concerts. "Well, no matter what happens tonight," he mused, "I will endure it. And tomorrow, if I have been annoyed as I was last night, I can make a change of quarters. Meanwhile, the most merciful plan is to see Mme. Toudouche at once and tell her that she must restrain her voice; that it is my earnest wish."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray, let all three be excellent. Stay, madame."

"My name is—er—Durac—M. Albert Durac."

"Thank you, monsieur."

"Please let my luggage be sent up. You have no doubt perceived that it is very small. I shall ask you for a cup of coffee each morning—good, strong coffee—a roll and a bit of butter. Pray